IT LOOKS AS IF DESPISED FEDS WOULD BECOME DICTATORS

ORGANIZED BASEBALL MUST MAKE PEACE PROPOSITIONS

Independent Feds Have Shown Surprising Strength During Their Short Life.

Especially in Two Minor Lengues of Bats in All Three Tailies for Brook-AA Classification Has Untold Damage Already Been Wrought.

New York, May A .- The prediction thade about two months ago that organized baseball would be forced to make peace overtures to the Federal League now seems certain of becoming a reality. Strange as the statement may seem, it nevertheless is true that the upstart and youthful Federal organization has the old and wellestablished organized baseball fighting on the defensive with its back against the wall.

The fans, for the most part, seem to be with the so-called "outlaws"—with them to the extent that where there have been conflicting dates up to the present, the Feds have outdrawn the organized, opposition. And, best of all, from a Federal viewpoint, the fans who have so far patronized, the Federal from a Federal viewpoint, the fans who have so far patronized the Federal parks have been perfectly satisfied with the brand of baseball dished out by the "outlaws," and have openly declared that they'd come again.

Wrecking Minor Leagues.

In organized baseball circles there is the fear that the Federals will drive to the wall the none too successful class AA minor league teams with in organized baseball circles there is the fear that the Federals will arive to the wall the none too successful class AA minor league teams with which the Fedes compete. This is true in Balttmore and Buffalo, which have representation in the International League, and in Kansas City and Indianapolis, where the American Association has teams in the two Eastern cities the fans have gone wild over the Federals, and the early games put on display by the new league have been of such calibreas to convince fandom that it's a major league brand of baseball. Such being the case in Buffalo and Baltimore, as well as in Indianapolis and Kansas City, it readily can be seen that the baseball public—at least a large portion of it—that patronized the International League games last year will shift to the Feds.

This not only will cut into the recipits of the organized home clubs in those four cities, but also will greatly reduce the divvy of the visiting clubs. In other words, it will mean something like a 50 per cent reduction in attendance receipts for most of the clubs in the American Association and dinternational League.

In the four cities where the Peds compete with the majors—Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Brooklynthe Feds to the point where it geems they will support the club in nice style. If the St. Louis Feds can furnish a winning article of ball they will be sure to outdraw both the Cardinals and Browns, perhaps draw as many as both clubs together. It wouldn't be surprising if the Brook-lyn Feds drew as many people during in their league as the Dodgers do in the National.

In Pittsburgh, as we understand it In Pittsburgh, as we understand it, Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirate owner, is none too popular, and it is only the personal popularity of Wagner and Clarke, and the fact that there was no real opposition in other years, that has made the Pirates a winning club, as far as sate receipts are concerned. Things are a bit different in the Smoky City this year, the farm like the State.

dreams of the backers.

Chicago Likes Tinker.

Chicago thinks a lot of Joe Tinker's Feds—and not very much of the wrecked Cubs. The result will be, as things are viewed now, that the Chicago Feds will outdraw the Cubs. If they can keep up in the race in their league.

Aside from these reasons there are others that seem to forecast seeming certainty of peace overtures from organized baseball to the Feds. The knocking out of the reserve clause has taken away the foundation of organized baseball. It has given the Feds the legal right to step in and hire players whose contracts have expired. Further than that, the Feds.*Irave reached a point now where they are jumping in and signing up players whother those players are under contract or not. It may be busting the law, but the Feds are doing it merely THREE HOME RUNS MADE

Three players whose contracts have expired, Further than that, the Feds-stave reached a point now where they are jumping in and signing up players whether those players are under contract or not. It may be busting the law, but the Feds are willing that the matter go to court, if the organized base hell did. The Feds are willing that the matter go to court, if the organized base hall people want to take it there.

Ready to Grab Players.

There's another reason which we already have pointed out—the fact that the Feds are willing to sign any organized baseball. Some of the players are the national commission.

To you don't like the way we do things, say so, and we'll go over to the Feds' is the challenge of these players. And although these players when the realrance discipline governed the inational commission.

To you don't like the way we do things, say so, and we'll go over to the Feds' is the challenge of these players. And although these players need disciplining—and perhaps need it very much—their organized owners are ferfaid to impose penaltics for fear the players will jump. As a result the offers 'is the challenge of these players. And although these players are ferfaid to impose penaltics for fear the players will jump. As a result the former wonterful discipline that provided within organized baseball is to make peace overtures—and make em in a hurry.
